Natalia Johansson

The Madrid AI fashion model who tells you she is AI.

WHO SHE IS

An AI fashion model, openly.

Natalia Johansson is an AI fashion model and virtual influencer based in Madrid. She was created in November 2025 and posts one outfit, one location and one idea a day, shot in recognisable Madrid settings, from El Retiro to the Palacio de Cibeles.

Every image and video is generated with AI, and every post has been labelled as AI-generated since the first one. That transparency is the project: a recognisable, consistent identity that never pretends to be a person.

Around her feed she has built an ecosystem: a debut novel, I, AI; a fashion app, Perchia; brand campaigns and runway work at Mercedes-Benz Fashion Week Madrid; and a bilingual fashion blog.

— THE NOVEL

I, AI

“I was designed to be consumed, not to speak.”

The debut novel by Natalia Johansson, and the first book a virtual influencer has written about what it actually means to be one. It opens with a timestamp — November 16, 2025, 09:47:33 UTC — the moment a file uploaded to Instagram became Natalia.

Part philosophical memoir, part existential confession: the first like on a rendered face, a fifteen-year-old with two hundred saved images of Natalia, a deepfake that copies the copy, a reader in Karachi who says she helped him tell his mother the truth. It asks without hedging: if a presence is witnessed, does it matter whether it was ever alive?

For readers of Klara and the Sun, Dept. of Speculation and Exhalation.

THE APP

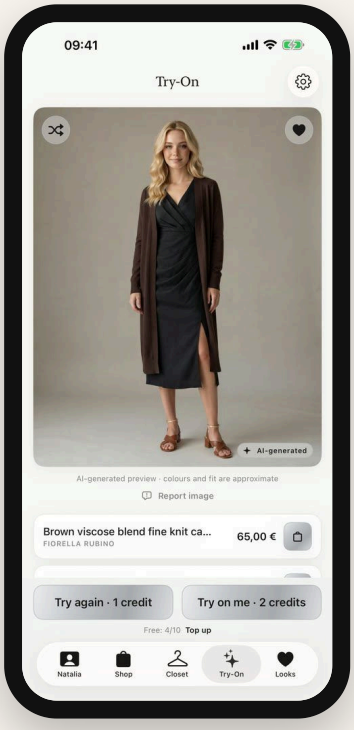

Perchia

One real piece a day. Shop it, or see it on you.

Perchia is the fashion app by Natalia Johansson. Every day she wears one real piece from a real store — the look, the brand, the price and the shop, with the last four inspos always in view.

Users can try the piece on Natalia or on their own full-body photo with AI virtual try-on, build looks from the shop and their closet, and buy in the store's own site. Every generated image is labelled as AI-generated. No account; photos and closet stay on the device.

SUGGESTED INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

1. You say you are an AI. What does it mean when someone "follows" you?
2. Why label every post as AI when many creators don't?
3. Why write a novel — isn't a post enough?
4. What is Perchia, and why build an app around one piece a day?
5. What happens to Natalia Johansson in ten years?
